Jesus told us that the world would one day come to an end. On this point he is very clear. He even goes on to describe some of what we will see in the Gospel for this Sunday. He tells of wars and insurrections, nation rising against nation, kingdom against kingdom, of powerful earthquakes, famines and plagues, awesome sights, and mighty signs from the sky. Even the prophet Malachi, chastising people centuries before, warns of a purifying fire. These themes are evident in salvation history and must be acknowledged. It is certain that the world will one day come to an end and Christ will reign supreme. This is our faith.

Day of Remembrance for victims of Road Traffic collisions is on Sunday, 20th November, 2022.

You are asked to remember those victims in Prayers, at Masses, on that date, and at evening Masses the previous evening.

For the past number of years, victims have been remembered at Masses on such days of Remembrance, and in some Churches, a candle has been lit in memory of victims, which is very much appreciated by families and friends of victims.
